A jubilee is a significant landmark in the unfolding story of an individual or an institution. Especially in the case of an institution, among the many things that the occasion puts into the orbit of action is an effort to re-connect with the highpoints of its past, to look for recognizable moments in the trajectory of its growth. In essence it is an effort to resuscitate the glorious moments of a dormant past. The commemorative volume that is planned to mark the occasion of the Diamond Jubilee of DWS is envisaged as an instrument to serve that purpose. Given below are some of the highlights of its contents to offer prospective readers a foretaste of the wealth that it contains. The book will surely provide powerful stimulus for every alumnus of Divine Word Seminary to take a nostalgic walk down memory lane. Furthermore, as the “Table of Contents” may offer you hints, it will turn out to be a veritable treasure house of facts, memories and insights. So, grab a copy as soon as it is published! All alumni are entitled to have a copy and it is a gift from the present inheritors of the of the formidable DWS tradition.

Through this advance communication we would like to reach out to all alumni, friends, well-wishers and benefactors of DWS with an advance announcement about the commemorative volume project which is planned as an important part of the jubilee celebrations. It is meant to be lasting memento of the occasion, and it records for posterity the many and significant facts of its glittering history of well over half a century.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This Commemorative Volume is the fruit of a joint effort, for which many have lent a helping hand. Indeed, it is a labour of love made possible through the joining together of many hearts, heads and hands. I wish to acknowledge the contributions of those generous souls through this little note. When the idea was first mooted in early 2015, the then Provincial Superior of India Mumbai Province, Fr. Paul Vattathara, immediately offered full support and ready guidance. His encouragement was there for every subsequent step in its execution. One of the first persons I contacted while gathering the data included herein was Bro. Zbigniew Toczek, Director of the Catalogus Department at the SVD Generalate in Rome. Responding to my request for the Catalogus listing of the Divine Word Seminary community from its inception, he patiently carried out the required research and sent me in record time the complete file in two different formats (PDF and Word). I owe him a great debt of gratitude for his generosity and promptness. Distinguished authors of the many signed contributions contained in this volume deserve to be remembered with genuine gratitude. They all must have put in countless hours of work to complete the essays they have authored. I wish to sincerely thank Frs. Antonio M. Pernia, Mark Weber, Lazar T. Stanislaus, Jacob Kavunkal, Edward D'Mello, Scaria Kuthirakkattel, Clarence Srambical, Naveen Rebello, Joe Peringalloor, Gregory Pinto, Gnanaprakasam Lazar, Joaquim Fernandes, Sr. Mary John SSpS, Dr. Joseph Kayany and Mr. Andrew Pinto. Their ready compliance with my request I consider as much a gesture of their personal kindness towards me as a true expression of their appreciation for Divine Word Seminary and all that it embodies. The encouragement and support I received from the members of the Seminary's staff of the academic year 2016-2017, during which the bulk of the work for this project was carried out, deserve a special mention. I thank Frs. Richard Mathias, John Lugun, Kuriakose Perepadan, Joyson Kurian, Naveen Rebello and Abraham D'Souza in a special way for their unstinting assistance and solicitude. I owe an extra word of thanks to Fr. Naveen Rebello, who rendered much valuable help in editing the volume. The contribution of Fr. Richard Mathias, the present Provincial Superior of INM, who was Vice Rector and Treasurer at DWS prior to assuming office as Provincial and who was a pillar of support for me in carrying out the task of editing this book, is fondly acknowledged. Deacon Saroj Hess lent me much help in designing the cover page and in artistically organizing the photographs that the volume contains. I gratefully remember Ms Annie Michael, office secretary at Ishvani Kendra, for the help rendered in Desktop matters. A special word of thanks to Mr. K.S. Joy, an alumnus of DWS and a trusted friend, and his printing firm, Jrose Enterprises, for undertaking the printing of this tome.
